

LATINS KNOW HOW TO RELAX AT END OF DAY'S ACTIVITY

Roving Reporter Puts Stamp Of Approval On S. A. Night Life

CAN REALLY DANCE

The Senoritas Are Not As "Emancipated" As Girls of The U. S.

"South of the Border" Series: No. 3
Our roving reporter, James L. Kilgallen, INS veteran, puts his stamp of approval on night life in South America in the following article — third of a series of six.

He and Arthur Godfrey, radio and television star, observed Latins in action after dark all over Latin America during Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's air tour of ten countries "South of the Border." What Kilgallen reports is "The McCoy," and here it is

By James L. Kilgallen
INS Staff Correspondent

(Written after an 18,000-mile air tour of ten Latin American countries with Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.)

Latin America reeks with glamour.

Its night life is captivating. You are intrigued by the night clubs and boites in cities such as Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Aires, Montevideo, Lima, Bogota, Caracas, Panama and Mexico City. You see a million carmen Mirandas. Well, let's say a thousand!

The Latins know how to relax after the day's work is done. The airplane, which is steadily cutting down travel time, will soon put all these spots less than a day away from New York, and other populous centers of the U.S.A. need I say more?

In Latin America, the North American finds himself in another world after dark. The people, of course, are much like we are but they take it easier and they're different in the sense they talk a different language and run to the dark-complexioned type.

They love music. They can really dance those gay Brazilian zambas and languid Argentine tangos. The dark-eyed senoritas and their escorts can also click off those boleros, congas and lively boogies. They can waltz, too.

Night club music is strongly flavored by tropical tunes, so you seldom get the two-step or other ballroom gyrations that are orthodox at home.

I'm sure Arthur Godfrey, the radio and television star, who was a member of our party, got an eyeful in the night clubs "South of the Border." After each nocturnal soiree, he rushed back to his hotel to make recordings for his public in the U. S. A.

In a night spot in Rio, a South American girl who was sitting with Godfrey and me, undertook to analyze "The Latin Way" of dancing.

"Dance music changes as you move around South America," she explained. "Take Brazil, for example. Here the music tempo is faster than you'll find it in Argentina. We love the samba. It's sort of a shuffle and a tango. The gayest of them all.

"In the Argentine, farther south, the basic music is the tango. It has sort of a weep to it.

"When you move around to the west coast to Lima you'll get the melodious Peruvian waltz which is beautiful.

Hulmeville Firemen To Have Truck Fund Drive

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 14—Letters have been sent by William Penn Fire Co. to residents of Hulmeville borough and surrounding area, asking for financial assistance in purchasing a new truck.

The drive for funds is soon to get underway, with special collection planned to start on Monday next, Sept. 19th. At that time a door-to-door canvass will be made within the borough. Residents outside the borough are being requested to send their donation to the fire company.

The firemen, in their plea for help from those whose property they are always ready to protect, state: "With the acquisition of a new truck during the next several weeks, this company will be able to give better protection against fire in Hulmeville and surrounding area. The truck we plan to buy is the latest in fire-fighting equipment. Knowing that you can depend upon William Penn Co. at time of fire or any other emergency, we feel certain you will want to help us with a generous financial donation to improve our service to you."

William Penn Company last purchased a truck in June, 1940, making its most recently-acquired truck nine years old.

Firemen also ask that residents keep in mind the coming fall auction, saving furniture, other household goods, electrical appliances, etc., so that firemen can turn the goods into money.

2nd Lake Half Completed Opposite Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 14—The new lake which is being excavated at "Shady Rest Lake," is approximately half completed, according to an announcement made today by Joseph Ward, 2146 Scattergood street, Philadelphia. The lake, now in process of being made, will make the second at the park-site along the Neshaminy Creek, Bensalem township, opposite this borough, and which was recently acquired by Mr. Ward.

The second of the spring-fed lakes will, like the first, be about an acre in size. The two will be connected by a channel, and these will be well-stocked with fish, states the developer.

"Our plan is to have a family lake resort, a place where a man can take his family for outings," commented Mr. Ward.

Other plans call for building of a dike along the lakes to keep water from the Neshaminy Creek from overflowing them at time of freshets. Mr. Ward today scuttled rumors that a dike is to be built along the creek bank. Park creek frontage measures 2,061 feet, and plans are outlined for filling in to a degree, and otherwise improving this area as well as the entire park site.

Fishermen were surprised on Saturday to learn the size of some of the fish in the present lake when that was drained for cleaning. Six bass tipped the scales at between four and five pounds. There were also a number of large pickerel. About 1000 fish were transferred to the Neshaminy Creek and to the state hatchery at Torresdale, under direction of a game warden.

During the coming winter a number of fireplaces will be erected throughout the grove, making picnic areas where groups can cook their meals.

The park was formerly part of Greenwood Farm.

View Films, Dedication Of Trevose Playground

ANDALUSIA, Sept. 14—A film shown Bunsalem Rotary Club members last evening by Lower Bucks Co. Business Men's Association depicted highlights of the dedication of the new playground at Trevose.

The Rotarians were addressed by Joseph Coons, president of the association, and Douglass Frank, chairman of the board of trustees. It was explained that the playground project was started in December, 1946, and that ground acquired a year later was added to in June, 1948. In May, 1949, a horse show was conducted to raise funds. In August, this year, the project was completed, the playground being dedicated on the 24th of that month. It is located at Winder avenue and Brownsville road.

New affiliates of the Rotary Club are: Richard White, Eddington, plant manager of Pennsylvania Salt Co., Cornwells Heights; Albert Lobbi, Trevose, owner of Lobbi Floor Products; and John Mortimer, Eddington, egg distributor.

The 1949 group of starlets include Kathleen and Joey, the sensational 7 year old dancing team who are doing celebrated Apache Dance, which even grown-up find difficult due to the amount of energy consumed to each performance. Uncle Wip will also bring a teen-age magician who already has a proof name and is known as "Schiller The Great." He will amaze you with his legedmain and it will be only a short while until the prof. Magician's charmed circle claims him. The whole evening's show is for every member of the family and of course, Uncle Wip is the genial master of ceremonies. You'll enjoy Uncle Wip and his big surrounding show. Remember the date, Oct. 1st, 1 p. m., Grand Theatre, Bristol.

The morning prayer was given by Mrs. Field, Bensalem township, following the salute to the flag, led by Miss Gladys Harper, Yardley. Greetings were extended by Mrs. William Hakes, newly-elected president of Bristol Union. The response was given by Mrs. William Kratz, Warrington.

Business of the morning included reading of minutes of the last session, Miss Jane Rogers, recording secretary; and of the treasurer's report by Mrs. Roscoe L. Horner, Langhorne.

Two numbers were sung by the "Oberholzer Trio" of Bristol, consisting of three sisters, Mrs. Marie Bensch, Mrs. Roland Zepp, and Mrs. Dorothy Schumacher. Mrs. Harry T. Neher was the piano accompanist.

A resume of the work of Bucks County Union was given by Miss Marion H. Longhorne, Langhorne, this corresponding secretary. Both this resume and the treasurer's report showed an increase in membership, the total number of members being 493.

The morning address was by the state corresponding secretary, Mrs. Martha B. Mayhugh, who took the members on a "ramble" through the streets of the towns and nation, finding much for all to do in educating boys and girls in temperance living.

Miss Helen Sauerma made the noonday prayer. A box lunch was enjoyed, coffee and tea being supplied. Continued on Page Four

Uncle WIP To Bring His Group of Starlets Here

The future stars which Uncle Wip will bring here with him in his big show have been chosen from hundreds of auditions and each and every starlet must measure up to a certain standard to be included with his group. Uncle Wip estimates that he has to hear at least one hundred aspirants for every starlet that is chosen. Only about one percent of the youngsters have the flare of showmanship and then it is a question of proper training, experience, and proper handling. During the years Uncle Wip has been developing juvenile talent, he has discovered many of the professional entertainers that you know here on the radio, night clubs, television and movies.

I. J. Hetherington, Republican Councilman from First Ward, Named as Democratic Candidate for Burgess—Edward Lynn Easily Defeats Fred Leyden in Contest for Office of Justice of Peace—Jamison Wins Over Woolley in Fight for Recorder of Deeds Office.

(Election Tables will be found on other Pages)

By a write-in vote, Bristol Borough Democrats yesterday chose I. J. Hetherington, Republican Councilman from the First Ward, as their candidate to oppose Burgess Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., nominated by the Republicans for re-election next November.

Hetherington was elected 10 to 4 by Borough Council on December 29th, 1947, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William H. H. Fine, who retired to become Borough Tax Collector.

This is the first time in many years that the Democratic Party here has gone beyond its own ranks for its candidate for the top office in the borough. The Democratic organization made no effort to have petitions filed for the position, and the primary ballots were filed with the office blank. It is understood that the Party leaders met last Friday night and decided to back Hetherington for the job.

Two other contests featured yesterday's primary here, which was otherwise a perfunctory matter run off in drizzling rain.

Justice of the Peace Edward Lynn, opposed for re-nomination in the Republican primary by Fred W. Leyden, won handily by 836 to 466.

In a three-way contest for two school board vacancies, John C. Johnson led the field, and Earl W. McEuen, a former school director, edged out the third entry, Mrs. Bertha P. Almond, at present a member of the board.

The results were as follows:

Johnson	965
McEuen	755
Almond	615

Burgess Schmidt received 1088 votes nominating him as Republican candidate for re-election. William H. H. Fine was given the Republican nomination for re-election as Tax Collector by 1091 votes.

All sitting Republican councilmen except two were nominated for re-election.

These two were: Louis C. Spring, of the Second Ward, who did not seek re-election, and was replaced by Frank A. Conti; and I. J. Hetherington, who failed to file for re-nomination when Republican support of the First Ward was turned in for John S. Lynn.

On the Democratic side, two sitting Councilmen were renominated. They are Dennis J. Roche and Joseph H. Foster, both of the Fourth Ward.

Winners of nomination for constables and auditor in Bristol Borough were as follows, according to the unofficial tabulations:

Republican
Constables: First Ward, Harry Evans, 6 votes; Second, Louis Angelo, 293; Third, Edward W. Townsend, 139; Fourth, Roy Jenks, 8; Fifth, F. Cordasco, 33; Sixth Ward, John H. Brehm, 256.

Democrat
Constables: First Ward, incomplete; Third Ward, Arthur Lippincott, 24; Fourth, Patrick McGonigle, 15; Fifth, John Rafferty, 4; Sixth, Henry C. McCahan, 53.

Auditor: James Nealis, 10. In the county-wide contest for nomination as a Republican candidate for Recorder of Deeds, J. Hart Jamison, Ivyland township, won over Martha S. Woolley, of Solebury township, by a majority of 9,209. The vote: Jamison, 11,519; Woolley, 2,310.

In the Democratic county-wide contest for Jury Commissioner, Mary H. MacLaren, Morrisville, defeated Alma F. Kirkpatrick, Quakertown, by 140 votes. The vote: MacLaren, 1,568; Kirkpatrick, 1,428.

The vote in the two districts in Lower Makefield township in a referendum on the sale of liquor and brewed beverages in those districts was: Yes, 30; No, 317. In the lower district the vote was: Yes, 12; No, 216. In the northern district it was: Yes, 18; No, 71.

Others nominated for county offices: Republican: Hiram H. Keller, Doylestown, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the 7th judicial district which is Bucks County; Harry H. Ross, Northampton township, sheriff; Willard S. Curtin, Morrisville, district attorney; Joseph A. Keating, Pennell, for prothonotary; Howard G. Krupp, Chalfont, controller; and J. Robert Hendricks, Bristol, jury commissioner.

Democrats nominated for county offices are: Roscoe Mease, Springfield township, sheriff; Adolph A. Andrews, Bristol township, recorder of deeds; James C. Bowen, Perkasee, district attorney; James A. Quill, Lower Makefield township, prothonotary; Charles J. Tetlow, Middletown township, controller.

HUSHABY, MOTORS

Could it be that Detroit seeks to turn motorists into a bunch of supersensitive sound sissies and noise ninnies? Yep, could be.

Shhh! Silence, please, while we quote a fine line of 1949 motor publicity featuring "quietness at all speeds." It says here in hushed tones:

"Not only has the fan pitch and speed been lowered to reduce engine whine, but the engine silenc-
er has been made more effective.
All air drawn into the engine passes through four silencing chambers. First of these is the hiss chamber.

"Practically simultaneously
the vibrating air column enters the high, intermediate and low note tuning chambers which neutralize sound vibrations spanning the musical scale. Even the untrained layman will quickly detect the marked improvement, particularly at high speeds."

Untrained layman, eh? We resent that. There's no such animal. Not any more. Time was when we could biff-bam, joggle-jostle down a slam-wham side road and be perfectly slap-bang happy in our squeak-rattle chug-chug. We were untrained laymen then, but that was before motorism's public relations experts had worked us over and made us decibel-conscious. Drat 'em! We had more fun when you couldn't hear the engine for the fender din.

If the hushaby experts really want to tackle a toughy, why don't they do something about that noisy old ruffian, the household water pipe? Modern plumb-ing, they call it! Hydrants howl.
Faucets fizz. Tees, elbows, unions give day-long vent to banshee wails all through the sprinkling season.

AMERICANS MIGHT LEARN

It seems that a British optometrist is in hot water. Three women patients thought they would look better in rimless glasses. The specialist agreed to serve their wishes despite the fact that the Health Act specifies only spectacles with rims.

Some funtionaries have investigated the conduct of this misguided lens expert and he has been cited to the national health authorities. The poor man is befuddled by it all. "The serious nature of the offense has been pointed out to me," he says, adding that "it was a mistake to pander
to the wishes of the patient."

Those who think that perhaps socialized medicine would be a good thing for America should put that down in their notebooks.
At present in this country the patient usually gets what he wants,
but under socialized medicine he would take what was given to him and shut up, or else. And the doctor would follow the orders given him by the bureaucrats or suffer the unpleasant consequences.

It is difficult to imagine Americans being happy in those circumstances. But perhaps after they have performed for a few more bureaus they may learn how to be.

Latins Know How To Relax
At End of Day's Activity

"All over South America they dance the bolero. It's a Spanish importation, sort of a fast tango."
On a Saturday night in Bogota, Columbia, at the Hotel Granada, we spotted the natives doing a new dance called the "bote."

Couples snuggled up together and made as if rocking a boat. It looked like a refined version of the old
"bunny hug." They said the "bote"
has just been imported from Cuba
and is quite the rage.

I found the "five o'clock tea" an interesting interlude in South America's cocktail lounges and hotels. The atmosphere is enhanced by the flattering presence of feminine chic.

Some drink tea but more often they consume cocktails or coffee.
Waiters bring around pastries and snacks. The "tea" lasts from 5 to 7 or 8 p. m. When they go to dinner, they take wine with their dinners.

Incidentally, I never saw a woman walking down the street smoking a cigarette, as you do in New York. The señoritas are not as "emancipated" as our gals; they wait for the proper place and proper time and have a fondness for long cigarette holders.

In the spacious cocktail or "tea" rooms (tables far apart) in the smarter hotels they have a nice practice. If you're wanted on the telephone no one goes around shouting.

No, you hear a bell tinkling gently. You look up. There is the bell tinkler carrying a placard on which your name is posted. It seems all right, too. I'm all for introducing that at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Shall I go on, No, suffice to say:
Night life in South America is

Our Father we rejoice in the knowledge that Thou art God of the strong and God of the weak. All are precious in Thy sight. To the strong Thou art teaching humility. Thou leadest the weak to put their trust in Thee. All who truly seek Thee are delivered from unworthy pride and nameless fears for pride and fear are destructive. Lead us, who pray this prayer, to the plateaus of faith where we may see Thee as Thou art and witness Thine unfolding plan for us. In the name of our Lord, we pray. Amen.

BENSALEM FEELS LOSS OF LETTERMEN ON GRID SQUAD

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Sept. 14.—The loss of eleven lettermen from last season will be felt by the Bensalem Township high school football team which opens its season this Friday night at Doylestown.

Coach Marlon VanHorn and his assistant, "Johnny" Messenger, have been working quite hard the past few weeks to fill the gaps left open by the graduation of his stars of last season.

Coach VanHorn lost three ends in Bob King, Sidney Bound, and Lawrence Michaels. The backfield team that finished school were the high scoring Frank Cantwell, George Ashton, and a good passer in Frank Koby. Both of his starting tackles, Harry Kisters and Edgar Mullen graduated as well as three guards, Reginald Samero, Arthur Silcox, and Raymond Rose.

The backfield will not present much of a problem to VanHorn as he still has his star, "Eddie" Oliver. The offense will be moulded around Oliver and in this section, there are a total of fifteen candidates. Outstanding are Bob Whitfield, John Bowman, Ray Truchart, Joe Graziosa, Warren Brady, and Al Bader, all of whom saw plenty of action last season.

Coach VanHorn had both centers of last season back with the squad but is seriously thinking of transferring one of these, Geiges, to an end position and keeping Gale Reid as the ball snapper. To aid Reid along are Donald Leslie, Gene Connelly, and Charlie Babbitt.

At the wing positions, Bensalem was hit the hardest. Jack Ward, Alex Martin, Victor Johnson, Edward Ream, and Jim Henry, along with Albert Geiges are fighting for wing posts.

Walter Smith and Fred King are about certain of tackle positions as they held these last season. Clarence Schmidheiser is a returning guard who tips the scales at 175 pounds. Smith, the tackle, hits the scales at 185 pounds.

The Owls have a total of 38 players in its varsity squad and of these twelve are seniors, sixteen, juniors, and ten are sophomores.

Three players, weight, and height, are as follows:

Player	Pos.	Wgt.	Hgt.
Ward, Jack	E	185	6-0
Geiges, Albert	E	120	5-9
Martin, Alex	E	145	5-9
Mellor, John	E	145	6-0
Johnson, Victor	E	150	5-11
